

Put On Clothes - Follows Through

Parent "Put on your clothes please."

Child (keeps playing with his toys)

Parent Four seconds after the child did not respond, parent takes away the toys and watches the child put on his clothes by himself.

Child Child puts on clothes independently.

Parent OK (simple praise)

Antecedent (The instruction)	Behavior	Consequence	Behavior will increase or decrease in the future
Parent ask child to put on clothes	Child does not respond	Parent follows through and has child do the task by himself	Child will more likely listen next time knowing her parent will follow through

The parent followed through which taught the child if she does not listen in the future, her parent will still make her do the task by herself.
